PROFILE

I have been working as a React Native Developer for 5 years. My journey started with Flutter, but after 6 months I transitioned to React Native and specialized in mobile development.

I have also built projects with React.js and Next.js, while using Node.js, Express.js, and MongoDB for backend solutions.

As a self-taught developer, I quickly adapt to new technologies, and my passion for software drives me to create user-centered, innovative solutions.
